

Christmas Entertainment from all at Tanfield Lea Community Primary

There have been many things different about our return to school this term. We've tried as much as possible to maintain many of our Tanfield traditions and I know the children have appreciated this.

Christmas is a special time of year in school. Parents usually have the opportunity to come and see their children perform, be it a nativity, a Christmas performance or Carol Service. This year this is not possible but I think we are offering you the next best thing.

We now have a dedicated YouTube channel – Tanfield Lea Primary – and we are going to use this to share the children's performances, and in the case of the Upper School, their Carol Service.

You'll get the best seat in the house and, not only that, you'll be able to share the performance with other family members.

At 4 p.m., on four nights next week, we will release one of the performances. We'll send you a link via email for this but will share on twitter too. We'll also have the link to the YouTube channel on the new learning platform, eSchools, so you can go directly from there. The performance releases will be as follows:

Monday 14th December

Early Years (Pre-School and Reception)

Tuesday 15th December

Y1 – Our very own nativity

Wednesday 16th December

Y2 – Lights, Camel, Action
It's Strictly the Nativity

Thursday 17th December

Upper School Carol Service

The performances always give a great start to our festive season. I hope that even though you can't enjoy these as live performances this year, you can still enjoy what the children have done and they help you to start feeling festive.
